The members of the Westerly Carpenters' union had their annual outing on Wednesday in Barnes' grove, Brightman's pond now the popular picnic resort of this section. Five large barges transported the wood artists to and from the grove, and during the day there were but very few carpenters in Westerly, and that few enjoyed a day of rest, and there was suspension of nail driving and wood sawing for the day. At the grove there was basehall and varied field sports and by way of change, a series of aquatic events in the pond. There was plenty to eat and drink at all times, but the chowder at noon and the clambake four hours on and the clambake four hours later were the features in that line. The clambake at Barnes' is the equal of any that was ever served on the shores of Brightman's pond, and that's Why Bryan Failed to Come Why Bryan Failed to Come.

It is doubtful if many people in the city and surrounding towns know how very near they came to seeing and hearing William J. Bryan during Chautauqua week. Only a few hours' train service was what stood in the way of the distinguished statesman's coming here. Mr. Bryan was scheduled to speak in Stamford Sunday afternoon. August 2 and planned to ternoon, August 2/ and planned to reach Putnam at 8.03 p. m., via New London. *He was obliged to be back in Washington early Monday morning and as it was impossible for him, even with the aid of an automobile, to do better than catch the 1.20 a. m. train out of Providence which would train out of Providence, which would not have gotten him to Washington before noon, the plan had to be aben-

RED CROSS TO SEND EXPEDITION TO WAR ZONE.

Measures For Relief of Americans in Europe Progressing Rapidly.

Washington, Aug. 12.-The Washington government's measures for the relief of Americans in Europe and plans of the Red Cross to send an expeditions to the war zones developed rapidly today. American embassies and legations throughout Europe were authorized by Secretary Garrison to charten ships in which to bring home citizens of the United States. Plans to send steamers from the United States were abandoned, because it was believed the movement of the refugees could be experiated by chartering neutral vessels at European ports.

Information received at the state department save seems that the legations throughout Europe were aupartment gave assurances that the British order against the entry of aliens into England was not meant to apply to Americans on the continent who are trying to return to the United

He proceeded to show that the best way to conduct a Junior League of any considerable size is to divide it into three sections, primary (under 10), junior (10 to 12), and intermediate (13 to 15). At 16 the boys and girls should enter the senior league. Prof. Spauding also outlined the special studies for these various departments, naming certain books and pamphlets adapted to teach the subjects. Best Way to Conduct League.

Bible Study Hour, Psaims of the Soul's Great Problems was the topic of the Bible Study hour, Rev. Wallace B. Fleming, D. D., is very interesting in his lucid explanation of the Psater. He began by comparing certain Psalms which are very much alike such as Psalms 14 and 53, Psalms 40 (1517) and 70. Though there be slight variations. God takes care of His truth. Meaning of Manhood (Ps. 3); Deliverance (Ps. 14); Right and Wrong (Ps. 14 and 94);
How to Live with God (Ps. 15); Righteous Forsaken of God (Ps. 22, 77, 80, 89); these were named as psalms discussing these great problems. Bible Study Hour,

"Go to Jail." This was among several directions suggested by Professor Gilbert in the closing session of the morning, for closing session of the morning, for improving a community through the socialized church. Clean-up campaigns evening classes, children's gardens, reading rooms, church federation, etc., were among other plans suggested. Hospitals are all right, but it is better to eliminate accidents. Social service seeks not only to relieve the distress, but to destroy the cause. The speaker closed with a consideration of several of the causes of misery and poverty. Among them is death of the bread winner, lack of insurance, had habits, the liquor evil intermitbad habits, the liquor evil, intermit-tent work in the factories, labor-saving machinery. Aside from intemper-ance these causes are social, not per-sonal. Preventable diseases is a great cause. To swat the fly is religious. Pure air, pure food and pure water and well lighted tenements are absolutely needed to prevent disease

Indoor Baseball. As the weather continued balky the baseball game scheduled was changed to a new indoor sort. A large 8x8 rug was laid upon the floor in one corner of the tabernacle. The rug rug was laid upon the floor in one corner of the tabernacle. The rug was divided into ten squares marked respectively from the front, three base hit, stolen base, foul, fly caught, one base hit two base hit, base on balls, strike, infield out, home run. The faculty represented the reds and the delegates the blues. Little Russell Stebbins acted as mascot. The faculty won over the delegates by a score of 21 to 9. After the game those present were highly entertained by Prof. W. M. Gilbert, one of the faculty, who gave several amusing recitations.

Stereopticon Utilized. At 5.15 in the Niantic house Rev. Duncan F. Dodd of East Hartford gave a lecture concerning the peoples coming to this land from foreign countries the pictures illustrating the different classes. Some of the eminent ones, like Marconi, and some Italian artists, were thrown on the screen.

Dean Bierney's Address.

There was a large gathering at the tabernacle Tuesday evening when the speaker was Rev. L. J. Bieney, D. D., dean of the Boston University School of Theology. His theme was Personal Evangelism. This world must be mothered and fathered up to God, said the speaker. It is through our human personality that the great personality of God is impressed upon humanity. John S. Huyler, of New York, gave a thousand dollars a day the last ten years of his life, for the cause of Christ, but he would also go to Water street and nut his arms arms at the Christ, but he would also go to Water street and put his arms around the drunken bums, and pray for them, winning many to Christ. Such personal work is most effective. This law of personal influence is what the coming of the kingdom must depend upon. It is fundamental. The dean held the close attention of the audience by his forceful and impossioned presentation. forceful and impassioned presentation of this most important subject.

PEACE TREATIES DISCUSSED BY UNITED STATES SENATE Recommended for Ratification by Foreign Relations Committee. Washington, Aug. 12.—While war raged today in Europe, peace treaties were discussed all day by the United States senate behind closed doors. Twenty special treaties with foreign States senate bening closed doors. Twenty special treaties with foreign nations, recommended for ratification by the foreign relations committee, were under consideration and Secretary of State Bryan remained at the capitol for consultation with the senators while the debate progressed.

No vote was reached after grolonged debate, but it was agreed to close general discussion by one o'clock tomorrow. Administration leaders predicted that the treatles would be ratified and that not more than ten votes will be recorded against them.

Secretary Bryan, who negotiated the pacts at the direction of President Wilson, explained them to many of the senators who professed ignorance as to their effect. Late in the day Robert Lansing, counsellor for the state department, was summoned for consultation on phases of international law involved.

In substance the treaties provide for investigations before

They are with Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Chile, Costa Rica, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Honduras, Italy, Norway, Nicaragua, the Netherlands, Panama, Persia, Portugal, Salvador, Switzerland, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Similar treaties have been negotiated with Great Britain and France, but the war is expected to delay their consummation indefinitely.

FIRST BIG EHIP TO NAVIGATE PANAMA CANAL Made Eastern Trip in Eight Hours Without Delay,

New York, Aug. 12—The steamer Cristobal which arrived tonight from Cristobal has the distinction of being the first vessel of any considerable size the first vessel of any considerable size to navigate the Panama canal in both directions. When the Cpistobal passed through the Narrows and up the bay she was decorated with bunting and several vessels in the bay saluted her. Captain Skillings said the canal trip toward the Pacific was quite successful, although trouble with the mechanical part of the lock at Miraflores caused a slight delay. The return run, however, was made without dalay. It took only eight hours to return to Cristobal.

The Cristobal signifed the British cruiser Suffolk at four o'clock this afternoon. The warship was then about five miles southeast of Scotland lightship near the New York harbor channel.
